

Bolivian President Evo Morales Receives Visiting Cuban Vice President Miguel Díaz-Canel

La Paz, May 27 (RHC)-- Bolivian President Evo Morales met Friday with Cuban First Vice President Miguel Díaz-Canel, who is paying an official visit to the Andean nation.

During the exchange, at the Government Palace in La Paz, the two dignitaries agreed on strengthening regional integration as a way to confront and overcome challenges stemming from the counteroffensive of right-wing forces.

The Cuban vice president renewed Cuba's commitment to defending and advancing the just causes of regional peoples against attempts by foreign-backed oligarchies to reinstate neo-liberalism in Latin America. He referred specifically to the U.S.-backed attacks against constitutional leaders in Brazil, Argentina, Ecuador and Venezuela.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/130970-bolivian-president-evo-morales-receives-visiting-cuban-vice-president-miguel-diaz-canel>

Radio Habana Cuba