

Israeli police again question Netanyahu over corruption scandal

Tel Aviv, June 15 (RHC)-- In Israel, police again questioned Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu in connection with one of a series of corruption cases.

Protesters gathered outside Netanyahu's house demanding his resignation, as police questioned him inside his home about the bribery scandal involving communications giant Bezeq Group, aimed at securing more favorable media coverage for Netanyahu and his family.

A number of members of Benjamin Netanyahu's inner circle have already been arrested so far in this corruption case.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/164701-israeli-police-again-question-netanyahu-over-corruption-scandal>

Radio Habana Cuba