The countries with the higher number of participants will be United States (274), Mexico (136), France (45), Colombia (42), Spain and Puerto Rico with 28 each.

"It is worth pointing out that most of the foreign runners are over 45 years old, and they will compete in the following distances: Marathon (325), Half-Marathon (418), 10K (134) and 5K (22)," said Gattorno.

The number of national participants is expected to be over 4000, which ratifies that sports are a right of the people.

Marabana will be celebrated next November 10, with the starting and finish lines at Parque Central, and the start will be at 6:30 am, as traditional.

The popular event will be dedicated to the 500th Anniversary of Havana and to the iconic Cuban marathon runner Felix Carvajal, on the 115th Anniversary of his participation in the Olympic Games of Saint Louis, United States.
