

Nicolás Maduro receives painting by jailed Cuban anti-terrorist Antonio Guerrero

One of the Cuban Five, René González, presented Venezuelan President, Nicolás Maduro, with a pastel painting featuring late Venezuelan leader Hugo Chávez by Cuban anti-terrorist Antonio Guerrero, unjustly locked at Mariana prison in Florida.

On hand at the presentation was Chávez's daughter Maria, Guerrero's mother, Mirta Rodríguez, his sister Maruchy, and Rene González's wife Olga Salanueva, The piece is based on a photo by Cuban photographer, Alex Castro. President Maduro thanked René for the gesture as a tribute to Commander Hugo Chávez Frías and as an expression of the willingness to continue the struggle for the release of the Cuban Five.
