

British Foreign Secretary Boris Johnson Says No Apology for Insults

London, July 20 (RHC)-- In news from Britain, recently appointed Foreign Secretary Boris Johnson is refusing to apologize for insults he's leveled at various world leaders.

Boris Johnson has called Hillary Clinton a "sadistic nurse in a mental hospital," and said, after the Obama White House moved a bust of Winston Churchill, that it was a "symbol of the part-Kenyan President's ancestral dislike of the British empire."

Johnson also wrote a poem about Turkish President Erdogan having sex with a goat.
