

Puerto Rican Government Interested in Opening Trade Office in Cuba

San Juan, September 17 (RHC)-- Puerto Rican authorities have expressed their interest in setting up a commercial office in Cuba to boost trade ties between the two Caribbean islands, however they need Washington's consent to do so.

Puerto Rico's Governor Alejandro García Padilla reportedly met with senior White House officials in Washington on the positive impact that expanded and strengthened bilateral trade ties could bring for both, Puerto Rico and Cuba.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/106018-puerto-rican-government-interested-in-opening-trade-office-in-cuba>

Radio Habana Cuba