

Senior White House Adviser Defends U.S. Abstention Vote on UN Resolution against Blockade of Cuba

Havana, October 28 (RHC)-- U.S. Deputy National Security Adviser Ben Rhodes has defended Washington's abstention vote on the UN resolution urging the lifting of the U.S. blockade policy towards Cuba.

About the abstention vote, the top White House adviser said on Twitter: "No reason to vote to defend a failed policy we oppose. The embargo denies opportunities to Cubans and isolates the U.S. For the sake of our interests and the Cuban people it should be lifted."
