

White House Gives Credentials to Far-Right-Wing Gateway Pundit

Washington, February 18 (RHC)-- In the United States, the White House has given press credentials to a reporter with the far-right-wing outlet Gateway Pundit, one of the most fervently pro-Trump blogs. It's considered even farther to the right than Breitbart Media.

Even conservative commentator Erick Erickson has criticized the move, writing: "I'm not sure there is a greater purveyor of fake news ... Gateway Pundit runs nonsense and I still have not determined if it is intentional or just because of some level of insanity."

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/122014-white-house-gives-credentials-to-far-right-wing-gateway-pundit>

Radio Habana Cuba