

Over 200,000 Flee Volcanic Eruption in Indonesia

Jakarta, February 18 (RHC)-- More than 200,000 people are being evacuated in Indonesia after a major volcanic eruption. Dangerous ash and rocks have spewed from Java island's Mount Kelud, threatening residents in at least 36 villages.

Authorities in Indonesia say that At least two people have been killed so far.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/14885-over-200000-flee-volcanic-eruption-in-indonesia>

Radio Habana Cuba