

Run Off Local Elections Held in Cuba

Havana, December 4 (RHC)--The second round of the elections of delegates to the Municipal Assemblies of People's Power in Cuba concluded Sunday in 1,103 districts distributed in 153 municipalities of the island.

The vice president of the Electoral Commission in Havana, José Viltres, told the press that in the capital 192 people were elected to complete the 1,331 municipal delegates.

In the central province of Cienfuegos, the run off polls were held in 24 districts, mostly in the capital city, to select among 48 candidates.

In Granma province, elections were held in 88 districts and culminated with 960 delegates in that territory.

Some 73,170 people were called to exercise their right to vote and complete the 668 delegates of the territory.

in Holguín and Santiago de Cuba, in the eastern part of the island 112,000 people were called to the polls in 133 districts.

With the completion of the election of municipal delegates concludes the first part of the general elections in Cuba.

The 11,415 delegates will serve for a period of two years and a half in the 168 municipal assemblies island wide.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/149239-run-off-local-elections-held-in-cuba>

Radio Habana Cuba