

Silversea Cruises includes Cuba among its destinations

Havana, October 24 (RHC)-- The U.S. ultra-luxury cruise line Silversea Cruises has announced it will include Cuba as part of its destinations in 2019.

According to Travelmarketreport website, the line will include a total of 17 voyages to the country, five of which will begin in 2019 and are already bookable. The remaining 12 voyages will launch in 2020.

"Since opportunities have opened for Americans to enjoy travel to Cuba, we have eagerly awaited this moment," said Roberto Martinoli, Silversea's CEO.

"Cuba is a remarkable island and we are delighted to offer our guests the opportunity to discover the most authentic sights, sounds and flavors of its culture, as they connect with its people on thoughtfully orchestrated voyages."

The first trip will start on February 14 on board the Silver Wind boat. It will set sail on February 14, on a 7-night voyage from San Juan to Fort Lauderdale, stopping to visit the Cuban cities of Havana and Santiago de Cuba, and the Bahamian island of Bimini.
