

Donald Trump claims Democratic voters put on disguise to vote twice

Washington, November 16 (RHC)-- In the U.S., the Florida and Georgia vote counts ended on Thursday as President Donald Trump blamed Republican losses in the midterm elections on voter fraud.

In an interview with conservative website The Daily Caller, Trump said of Democratic voters: "Sometimes they go to their car, put on a different hat, put on a different shirt, come in and vote again."

Trump also repeated an earlier false claim that people are required to show ID to purchase groceries, saying: "If you buy a box of cereal — you have a voter ID."

During the same interview, President Trump issued a warning to the anti-fascist movement, known as antifa. Trump said: "These people, like the Antifa — they better hope that the opposition to Antifa decides not to mobilize... Because if you look, the other side, it's the military. It's the police. It's a lot of very strong, a lot of very tough people. Tougher than them. And smarter than them... Potentially much more violent. And Antifa's going to be in big trouble."
