

New flight route between Havana and Managua launched

Havana, December 15 (RHC)-- A new flight route, operated by Venezuelan airline Conviasa, between Havana and the Nicaraguan capital Managua was inaugurated during the 16th Summit of ALBA-TCP heads of state, on December 14 in the Cuban capital.

On board the inaugural flight were President of the Cuban Olympic Committee Roberto León Richards, as well as three times Olympic champions former volleyball player Mireya Luis, and wrestler Mijaín López.

Venezuelan Ambassador in Managua, Francisco Javier Arrúe, described the launch of the new route as historic and congratulated the Conviasa crew members for their work as ambassadors between the two countries.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/178979-new-flight-route-between-havana-and-managua-launched>

Radio Habana Cuba