

Poll Shows Brazil's Rousseff Still in Lead for Re-election

Brasilia, March 21 (RHC) -- Brazil's President Dilma Rousseff continues to lead polls in the lead-up to the October presidential elections, according to an Ibope poll released Thursday.

According to the poll, Rousseff would win in the first round with 43% of the votes, against 15 % for Aécio Neves, of the opposition PSDB party, and 7% for Eduardo Campos, of the PSB party.

Undecided voters amounted to 11%, and 25% said they would nullify their votes in the election.

Rousseff and Campos maintained their share of votes compared to the previous Ibope poll, while Neves advanced 1%.
