

Cuban Boxing team looking for all the gold

Lima, July 29 (RHC)-- After more than two months of inactivity in the ring, Cuban welterweight Roniel Iglesias made his debut in the XVIII Pan-American Games Lima 2019 with a victory and has guaranteed him a bronze medal in the boxing competition. Iglesias' teammates also advanced to semi-finals after winning their respective bouts.

"It had been a long time since I last stepped into the ring in an official bout, and I am pleased with the way I felt," Iglesias told to Cuban Sports web site JIT after beating Nicaraguan Omar Brenes by unanimous decision. Veitia dominated Colombian Yilmar Gonzalez by countering his rival's size and reach advantage with lots of speed. Savon, found in his solid left hooks his most effective weapon against Canadian Bryan Colwell. Cuban boxing team has earn 6 passes to the Semi-Finals and this Monday Featherweight Osvel Caballero will face Colombian Ceiver Avila, and Damian Arce will do it against Peruvian Isaac Peña.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/deportes/197483-cuban-boxing-team-looking-for-all-the-gold>

Radio Habana Cuba