

Six baseball players sanctioned for bench-clearing incident

Havana, September 27 (RHC) – The Cuban National Baseball Direction has applied sanctions on a total of 6 ball players of the Industriales Lions and the Holguin Cubs, after a bench-clearing incident during a game of the National Baseball Series.

The official note of the National Baseball Direction states:

“As announced after the incident starred by the teams Industriales and Holguin, during a match of the National Baseball Series on Tuesday, the National Baseball Direction agreed on the following disciplinary measures:

Industriales:

Yusnier Rosabal Ortiz (# 18): Suspended from National Baseball Series 2019-2020.

Lisban Correa Sanchez (# 58): One-year suspension.

Randy Linares Rodriguez (# 21): 10-game suspension.

Holguin:

Emmanuel Chapman Ayon (# 99): One-year suspension.

Pedro Almeida Tamayo (# 12): One-year suspension.

Osdad Silva Hernandez (# 3): 3-game suspension.

We insist on the no-tolerance policy against these types of indiscipline that are against the values of the Revolutionary sport and the show dedicated to our fans, they deserve all the respect”.
