

Alfredo Despaigne heads Cuban team to Premier12 tourname

Havana, October 3 (RHC)-- Outfielder and slugger Alfredo Despaigne is heading a total of 37 baseball players forming the Cuban pre-selection roster to determine the national team that will represent the island at the upcoming Premier12 baseball tournament to be held from November 2 to 17.

The Cuban Baseball Federation made the roster announcement in the Adolfo Luque Hall of the capital's Latin American Stadium.

The Cuban team to the Premier12 tournament will be managed by Miguel Borroto, who will replace Rey Vicente Anglada after Cuba's failure to advance at the Pan American Games in Lima, Peru.

Despaigne, a star player of Japan's professional league Fukuoka SoftBank Hawks (current champion), stands out on the list of 37 players.

Premier12 gathers the 12 best national baseball teams according to the World Baseball and Softball Confederation ranking.

This year, the tournament will be held in three different countries: Mexico, South Korea and Japan, and offers qualification to the 2020 Tokyo Olympic Games.
