

Diaz-Canel meets with US Congressman Jim McGovern

Havana, October 4 (RHC)-- Cuban President Miguel Diaz-Canel received this Friday in Havana the Democratic congressman from the state of Massachusetts, James McGovern, president of the Rules Committee of the House of Representatives of the United States Congress, who is visiting the Caribbean island.

McGovern is visiting Cuba accompanied by a representative of the New England Council, a regional business association representing public and private sector organizations in the New England area of the United States, which covers the six northeastern states: Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

During the meeting, they exchanged about the relations between the two countries and other issues of common interest.

Also present with the visitor were Matthew Bonaccorsi and former Congressman William Delahunt. On the Cuban side were the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Bruno Rodriguez, and the General Director of the United States Department of Foreign Affairs, Carlos Fernandez de Cossio.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/204009-diaz-canel-meets-with-us-congressman-jim-mcgvorn>

Radio Habana Cuba