

Bolivia's ex-government minister, Carlos Romero, hospitalized in La Paz

La Paz, January 11 (RHC)-- The de-facto government of Bolivia continues with the siege and political persecution of leaders and supporters of the Movement Toward Socialism party (MAS) and authorities that were part of the Evo Morales government, this time the former minister Carlos Romero.

The former Minister in Evo Morales' administration reappeared publicly on Wednesday since the coup on November 10th, when a journalist from an international agency saw him entering a Sopocachi building in La Paz. Immediately activists from the fascist group called 'La Resistencia' (The Resistance) installed a vigil outside his home demanding his detention, without providing evidence as to why he should be imprisoned.

Hours later, the Bolivian Prosecutor's Office cited Romero, who was Morales' Government Minister, to appear to testify in the so-called '2009 terrorism case' (Operation 'Hotel Las Americas') and for alleged corruption in the Executing Unit for the Comprehensive Fight Against Drug Trafficking (UELICN). There is no arrest warrant against him.

For his part, Carlos Romero filed a complaint against the representative of the group 'La Resistencia' "and people stationed in front of his home" for restricting his right to freedom of movement and restricting his access to food. The complaint was rejected by the de-facto government's justice system.

"We're not afraid of them, we also have a legal team that will support us in everything we do," Romero said in an interview with a local media outlet.

However, during the afternoon on this Friday, the pressure took a toll on Romero's health and had to be evacuated in an ambulance and in the middle of a strong police guard. His health condition is delicate, according to the first medical evaluation, and he was admitted to an emergency hospital in La Paz.

Evo Morales, leader of the MAS party, wrote on his twitter account that he held the de-facto government responsible for the life of the former minister, who stayed at his home for more than 48 hours without water or food.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/211664-bolivias-ex-government-minister-carlos-romero-hospitalized-in-la-paz>

Radio Habana Cuba