

Indigenous peoples and allies fight against incursion of Canadian police

Ottawa, February 11 (RHC)-- In Canada, solidarity actions took place across the country as Canadian police continued their raids on Wet'suwet'en land in British Columbia.

Indigenous land defenders are fighting the construction of TransCanada's 400-mile, $4.7 billion Coastal GasLink pipeline.

At least 21 people have been arrested since the raids began several days ago.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/214161-indigenous-peoples-and-allies-fight-against-incursion-of-canadian-police>

Radio Habana Cuba