

Cuban president praises recovery of nurse from COVID-19

Havana, May 23 (RHC)-- The president of Cuba, Miguel Díaz-Canel, this Saturday congratulated the Cuban nurse who suffered very seriously from COVID-19 on her return to life and to her home.

Through his Twitter account, the president mentions Yaquelin Collado, a nurse from Villa Clara who recovered from the coronavirus and has now been discharged from the hospital.

Moments before returning home and visibly moved, Yaquelin Collado had words of gratitude for the medical personnel of the institution and the province, who day and night fought for her life, until she was returned to the bosom of her family. At the same time, she thanked the thousands of people who expressed their hopes for her healing, sent messages of encouragement through social networks or called the center, asking about her health.
