

Cori Bush, who led Ferguson Black Lives Matter protests, wins Missouri House Seat

Democrat Cori Bush has overwhelmingly defeated Republican Anthony Rogers.

Jefferson City, November 4 (RHC)-- In Missouri's 1st Congressional District, which includes St. Louis and Ferguson, Democrat Cori Bush has defeated Republican Anthony Rogers.

Cori Bush won a stunning primary upset in August over 10-term incumbent Congressman William Lacy Clay, whose family has represented the St. Louis-area congressional district for more than 50 years.

Cori Bush is a single mother and a nurse. She was formerly homeless and was a leader in the 2014 Ferguson uprising over the police killing of 18-year-old Michael Brown.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/238761-cori-bush-who-led-ferguson-black-lives-matter-protests-wins-missouri-house-seat>

Radio Habana Cuba