

Bank holiday announced for December 30 and 31

Havana, December 21 (RHC) The Central Bank of Cuba (BCC) informed that on December 30th and 31st, its branches will be closed due to the necessary processes for the launching of the monetary reform on the island.

The Banks' First Vice-President, Francisco Mayobre Lence, announced that the last banking day of the year will be December 29, with operations until 7 pm.

On Wednesday 30th, electronic channels will be available until 6:00 pm, and services will resume at 00:00 am on January 1, 2021, with the new monetary order environment.

Bank authorities have urged the Cuban population to take measures of its money needs because as of 6:00 pm. December 30, all electronic transactions conducted through POS, and the apps Transfermovil, and EnZona will be halted.

Radio Habana Cuba