

Rosebud Sioux bury remains of Indigenous children who died in U.S. government schools

Pierre, July 19 (RHC)-- The remains of nine Indigenous children were buried Saturday by the Rosebud Sioux in South Dakota after being transferred back from the former Carlisle Indian School in Pennsylvania.

Pierre, July 19 (RHC)-- The remains of nine Indigenous children were buried Saturday by the Rosebud Sioux in South Dakota after being transferred back from the former Carlisle Indian School in Pennsylvania.

Over the weekend, another ceremony was held at a Missouri River landing near Sioux City, Iowa, where the children departed their homes, ripped from their families, over 100 years ago, as part of the cultural genocide orchestrated by the U.S. government.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/264360-rosebud-sioux-bury-remains-of-indigenous-children-who-died-in-us-government-schools>

Radio Habana Cuba