

More than 90 Palestinians Killed So Far in Israel Assault on Gaza

Gaza City, July 10 (RHC)-- The death toll from Israel's attack on the Gaza Strip has more than doubled in 24 hours as the besieged territory comes under relentless bombing.

At least 44 Gaza residents have been killed in the past day, bringing the total this week to more than 90. The Palestinian news agency Maan reports the dead include 18 children and 10 women, and the Palestinian Ministry of Health says more than 600 people have been wounded.

In the deadliest single attack since the offensive began, at least seven Palestinian civilians, including five children, were killed when Israeli warplanes bombed several homes in a densely populated area where the victims were sleeping. Bodies were pulled from the rubble of at least three homes and neighboring buildings.
