

Fifty Killed in Afghan Market Bombing

Kabul, July 15 (RHC)-- In Afghanistan, at least 50 people have been killed in Paktika province after a car bomb exploded in a crowded market. All the dead are believed to be civilians.

The blast came hours after a roadside bomb killed two employees of outgoing Afghan President Hamid Karzai in the capital Kabul. The Taliban claimed responsibility for that attack.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/28546-fifty-killed-in-afghan-market-bombing>

Radio Habana Cuba