

Philippines Hit with Strongest Typhoon Since Haiyan

Manila, July 16 (RHC)-- At least 10 people have died in a typhoon churning across the Philippines. Nearly 370,000 people have been forced to evacuate their homes as the cyclone makes its way to the capital Manila.

Typhoon Rammasun is the strongest to hit the Philippines since Typhoon Haiyan last year, one of the worst ever recorded. The official death toll from Haiyan stands at more than 6,100.
