Havana, May 12 (ACN) - Matanzas became the fifth team to qualify for the Cuban baseball postseason after beating Mayabeque 7-1 and sweeping the particular sub-series between the two.

On Wednesday, the qualifying phase concluded for 10 of the 16 contestant teams and now there are 11 games left to make up.

The Cocodrilos de Matanzas, who are advancing to the playoffs for the tenth time in the last 11 seasons, counted on the excellent work of left-hander Dariel Góngora, who pitched 7.0 innings with only three hits allowed.

Noelvis Entenza allowed no singles in two innings and earned the save.

Once again, center fielder Ariel Sánchez was the spark plug for the reigning national runners-up, hitting 3-3 and driving in two runs.

There were sweeps in seven games. The only one that was not swept was Ciego de Avila, which defeated the leader Sancti Spíritus 6-1.
