

Changes in the final program of the U-23 Baseball Series

The National Baseball Commission informed about changes in the schedule of the final of the VII National Under-23 Baseball Series

Santa Clara, September 3 (JIT) -- The National Baseball Commission informed about changes in the schedule of the final of the VII National Under-23 Baseball Series.

According to the information received, the Santiago de Cuba team could not arrive in this city, so the game corresponding to Saturday, September 3 was postponed.

Taking into account the arrival of the Avispas in the next few hours, it was decided to postpone the game for Sunday.

So, the fourth match will be played on Monday and the fifth and last one on Tuesday if necessary, always at 2:00 p.m.

The decision is aimed at taking care of the final stage of the Series, allowing the athletes to recover and favoring the show.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/deportes/298233-changes-in-the-final-program-of-the-u-23-baseball-series>

Radio Habana Cuba