

Cuban president arrives in Moscow on official visit

Cuban President Miguel Diaz-Canel arrived Saturday at Vnukovo airport in the capital of the Russian Federation, where he was received by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Rudenko. The President responded to an invitation from his Russian counterpart, Vladimir Putin.?

Moscow, November 19 (RHC)-- Cuban President Miguel Diaz-Canel arrived Saturday at Vnukovo airport in the capital of the Russian Federation, where he was received by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Rudenko. The President responded to an invitation from his Russian counterpart, Vladimir Putin.

The current tour of the President and his delegation includes, in addition to Russia, Algeria, where he began, Turkey and the People's Republic of China.

In Russia, Díaz-Canel will hold meetings with the highest authorities of the Slavic country, including President Putin, as well as with important businessmen and a representation of Cubans living in the Eurasian nation.

A significant moment of the President's stay in Moscow will be the inauguration of a monument to the historic leader of the Cuban Revolution, Fidel Castro, on the 22nd in the square of the same name in the Sokol district.

Also as part of his work program, Díaz-Canel will visit places of connoted economic, historical and cultural interest.

The current visit to the Russian Federation by the Cuban president is the second in his capacity as head of state. The previous visit took place from October 27 to 30, 2019, during which he also held a meeting with Putin.

Díaz-Canel is accompanied by Foreign Minister Bruno Rodríguez; Deputy Prime Ministers Ricardo Cabrisas and Alejandro Gil; and Ministers Rodrigo Malmierca (Foreign Trade), Vicente de la O Levy (Energy and Mines), and José Ángel Portal (Public Health), among other officials.(Fuente/PL)

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/305463-cuban-president-arrives-in-moscow-on-official-visit>

Radio Habana Cuba