

Cuba will attend the Continental Chess Championship

Image not found or type unknown

Cuba will attend the Continental Chess Championship

Havana, February 4 (RHC)-- Grand Masters (GM) Carlos Daniel Albornoz and Luis Ernesto Quesada will represent Cuba in the XVI Absolute Continental Chess Championship, to be held from May 14 to 26 in the beach town of Juan Dolio, in the Dominican Republic.

The president of the Cuban Federation of that sport, Carlos Rivero, confirmed the news and added that a third man will be included, whose name will be announced after the closing of the current national championship, which is being held in the city of Holguin.

According to what has been published by the Chess Confederation of America (Fide America), in addition to the tournament of classical games, the continental champions of rapid and Blitz will be defined on Dominican soil.

These two modalities are the ones summoned for the debut of chess in the Central American and Caribbean Games of San Salvador 2023, scheduled from June 23 to July 8, hence the interest of Cuba to guarantee the presence of Alborno and Quesada.

The continental championship will be part of their preparations for San Salvador, Rivero explained about the strategy conceived for those who will be the two representatives of the island in the multisport event.

In the Continental Championship, the classical segment was called for 11 rounds by the Swiss system, while the Blitz is scheduled for Saturday, May 20 and the rapid event between the 24th and 25th.

The number of rounds and the schedules of these two competitions will be published in the next few days, according to the official communiqué.

In May 2022, the previous event of this kind was held in the Salvadoran capital, where the most outstanding Cuban was Yasser Quesada from Villaclare, who finished third.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/deportes/312720-cuba-will-attend-the-continental-chess-championship>

Radio Habana Cuba