

Deputy minister of Foreign Affairs of Cuba receives Ambassador of Niger

Image not found or type unknown

Cuba's Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs and Ambassador of Niger

Havana, March 17 (RHC)-- The Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs of Cuba, Anayansi Rodríguez, received the Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary Ambassador of the Republic of Niger, Aicha Issoufou.

The Cuban Foreign Ministry detailed on its Twitter account that the diplomat presented the Copies of Style as ambassador designated by her country, to the Government of Cuba.

Havana and Niamey established diplomatic relations in April 1976, with ties that include the presence of a Cuban medical brigade in Niger, the training of health professionals in the largest of the Antilles, and cooperation in the academic environment. (Source: PL)

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/316953-deputy-minister-of-foreign-affairs-of-cuba-receives-ambassador-of-niger>

Radio Habana Cuba