

President Maduro highlights excellent state of relations between China and Venezuela

Image not found or type unknown

Venezuelan President highlights excellent relations between Venezuela and China

Havana, March 28 (RHC) Venezuelan President Nicolás Maduro Moros highlighted the excellent state of relations between Cuba and Venezuela. In the act held at the Miraflores Palace, seat of the Government, the president, accompanied by other heads of state, awarded the Order of the Patria to Chinese President Xi Jinping. The head of state meant that both countries have "perfect coordination" of diplomacy and international relations. Maduro pointed out that the ceremony and awarding had two very important components: one related to the recognition of the Chinese leader and the other to the recognition of the Chinese people. The head of state ratified his congratulations to Xi on his re-election as head of China, to the entire Chinese people and to the Chinese Revolution. China shows signs that it can be a great power without being imperialist, extending its hands for cooperation and friendship. Li expressed his gratitude for the award received, and praised the deep traditional friendship between Cuba and China.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/318039-president-maduro-highlights-excellent-state-of-relations-between-china-and-venezuela>

Radio Habana Cuba