Havana, June 24 (RHC) President Miguel Díaz-Canel returned to Cuba today after finishing a European tour that took him to Vatican City, Italy, Serbia, and France.

The Cuban leader participated in the Summit for a New World Financial Pact, representing the Group of 77 plus China, where he called for a new international order to replace the current system, which he described as unjust, antidemocratic, obsolete, and exclusive.

The Cuban head of state also visited UNESCO's headquarters, where he was received by its director general, Audrey Azoulay.

Likewise, during his European tour, he held meetings with local authorities, heads of state, leaders of multilateral organizations, businessmen, representatives of solidarity, and Cuban residents.

The President was received at Havana's José Martí International Airport by Vice President Salvador Valdés; the Secretary of the Organization of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Cuba, Roberto Morales, and Prime Minister Manuel Marrero informed the Presidency on Twitter. (Source: PL)
