

Canadian solidarity groups support march against US blockade of Cuba

Image not found or type unknown

Solidarity with Cuba from Canada supports the march in the U.S.

Ottawa, Jun 24 (RHC) Cuba solidarity organizations in Canada support the march taking place in the United States this Sunday to demand the removal of the island from the list of countries sponsoring terrorism.

The call was presented through the social networks of the solidarity committees of Manitoba, Quebec, and Victoria, where they informed the time and locations of the marches, respectively.

"On June 25 there will be a demonstration in New York and events in several cities to demand that Cuba be removed from that list that the United States invented," alleges the call that concludes by inviting all people to join the cause.

The demonstration that will take place in front of the White House in New York and other U.S. cities will culminate a week of activities at the national level in which President Joe Biden was asked to end the hostile policy towards Cuba.

A similar call was made the day before by Carlos Lazo, coordinator of the U.S. project Bridges of Love. (Source: PL)

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/326569-canadian-solidarity-groups-support-march-against-us-blockade-of-cuba>

Radio Habana Cuba