Havana, July 6 (RHC) -- The President of the Republic and First Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Cuba, Miguel Díaz-Canel, began today a tour of economic and social sites in the province of Villa Clara, as a deputy to the National Assembly of People's Power (parliament).

According to the Presidency, the president, together with other parliamentarians, visited economic and social sites in the territory, following up on the province's integral development and fulfilling his constitutional mandate to represent his Santa Clara constituents.

Díaz-Canel began his visit at the Los Cueto farm, a family project that unites four generations, the outstanding cattle producer Alfonso Cueto explains to the deputies the results of their productions.

About 12 kilometers north of Santa Clara is the productive emporium of Los Cueto, which shows excellent results in the production of milk and beef.

The farmer says that his first commitment is to fulfill his plan to deliver milk and meat to state institutions in charge of social consumption, mainly in assistance centers.

The President was also interested in the land used for various crops.

As part of the tour, the deputies will also visit the Los Pinos gastronomic recreational center, in order to corroborate the current performance of the institution.

Díaz-Canel was elected deputy to the Cuban Parliament in its 10th Legislature last April and forms part of the group of 470 elected parliamentarians, of which 221 are grassroots delegates and 303 have this responsibility for the first time in a legislature.(Source:ACN)
