Osvaldo Vento on working visit to Guadeloupe

Havana, March 7 (JIT) - The president of INDER, Osvaldo Vento Montiller, held an intense work agenda in Guadeloupe, where he arrived on Tuesday from Paris.

On this day, he had a dialogue with Chantal Cusset-Gaydy, director of the Center for Resources of Experience and Sports Performance (Creps), who was accompanied by authorities of the Ministry of Sports, the Diplomatic Council and fencing.

After the dialogues, Inder and Creps signed a cooperation agreement in several areas, with emphasis on sports and academic exchange in this field.

Accompanied by Gisleydi Sosa, director of international relations of Inder, and other members of the delegation, Vento visited the University of Guadalupe, which has 13 thousand students.

In addition to touring the facilities of the university, Vento and his companions exchanged extensively with authorities, professors and students.

The Guadeloupean side requested Cuban literature on sports and physical culture, to which an affirmative answer was given.
