

CAIR issues travel advisory as Trump readies new Muslim ban

Washington, March 8 (RHC)-- The Council on American-Islamic Relations has issued a travel advisory warning immigrants from majority-Muslim nations not to leave the U.S. over the next 30 days amid reports Trump is poised to announce a new travel ban.

According to reports, the ban could affect citizens of Iran, Libya, North Korea, Somalia, Sudan, Syria, Venezuela, Cuba, Yemen and Pakistan. It could also include tens of thousands of Afghans who have been cleared for resettlement in the U.S. and face life-threatening danger in their home country for assisting U.S. forces during their 20-year occupation of Afghanistan.

Trump's first-term Muslim ban was repealed in 2021.
