

U.S. court in New Jersey is hearing arguments in Mahmoud Khalil case

Newark, March 28 (RHC)-- A U.S. federal court in Newark is hearing arguments from the lawyers of Mahmoud Khalil on Friday as they argue for his case to be transferred to New Jersey and for his release from federal custody.

Mahmoud Khalil, a former student protest leader at Columbia's encampments, was first detained in New Jersey after he was arrested by ICE agents at his home in Manhattan earlier this month.
