

Three children who are U.S. citizens deported to Honduras

Washington, April 29 (RHC)-- The Donald Trump administration has deported to Honduras three U.S. citizen children, including a 4-year-old who is actively receiving treatment for a rare form of stage 4 cancer. The boy was removed with his 7-year-old sister, who is also a U.S. citizen, and their mother.

In a separate case, the U.S. removed a 2-year-old U.S. citizen along with her mother. In that case, U.S. District Judge Terry Doughty said the girl was sent away “with no meaningful process.”

In other news, ICE has conducted a number of high-profile immigration raids. In Florida, ICE worked with local officials to detain nearly 800 people. Meanwhile, in Colorado Springs, ICE agents raided a nightclub and made over 100 arrests.

Protesters rallied outside the Charles Schulz Airport in Santa Rosa, California, Saturday to protest Avelo Airlines, which recently signed a deal to work with ICE on deportation flights.
