

U.S. immigration judges dismiss more than a dozen cases involving men expelled to Salvadoran prison

---

Washington, May 30 (RHC)-- NBC News is reporting immigration judges have moved to dismiss at least 14 cases involving immigrants who were expelled without due process to an El Salvador mega-prison under the Alien Enemies Act, despite ongoing legal challenges over Trump's invocation of the 1798 wartime law.

One of the recently dismissed asylum cases involves Andry Hernández Romero, a gay makeup artist from Venezuela, who was apparently expelled because he had tattoos.

[ SOURCE: DEMOCRACY NOW ]

---

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/383809-us-immigration-judges-dismiss-more-than-a-dozen-cases-involving-men-expelled-to-salvadoran-prison>

Radio Habana Cuba