

Saudi Prince to Iran's leaders: Negotiate new nuclear deal with U.S. or face Israeli strikes

Tehran, May 31 (RHC)-- Saudi Arabia's defense minister warned leaders of Iran last month that they should accept President Trump's offer to negotiate a new nuclear agreement with the U.S. — or face military action by Israel.

According to Reuters, Saudi Prince Khalid bin Salman personally delivered the message that Trump's team would want to reach a deal quickly, that the window for diplomacy would close fast, and that an Israeli attack was possible if the talks broke down.

Khalid bin Salman's visit to Iran in April was the first by a high-ranking member of the Saudi royal family in more than two decades.

[SOURCE: DEMOCRACY NOW]

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/383894-saudi-prince-to-irans-leaders-negotiate-new-nuclear-deal-with-us-or-face-israeli-strikes>

Radio Habana Cuba