

U.S. appeals court keeps National Guard under Trump's control in Los Angeles amid ongoing ICE raids and protests

Washington, June 14 (RHC)-- An appeals court has ruled that Trump can remain in charge of the 4,000 National Guard members deployed around Los Angeles, reversing a court order just hours earlier which had returned authority over National Guard personnel in California to Governor Gavin Newsom. A three-judge panel will hear the case again on Tuesday.

Neighborhood protests have been continuing throughout the Los Angeles region as federal agents raid more homes and businesses. Protests have also targeted hotels, including in Pasadena and near LAX, the Los Angeles airport, where ICE agents have been staying.
