

United Nations report lists companies complicit in Israel's genocide

Which companies are supporting Israel?

The report by the UN special rapporteur lists companies aiding Israel's occupation and war on Gaza in sectors ranging from arms procurements and technology to finance and agriculture.

United Nations, July 3 (RHC)-- A report issued by Francesca Albanese, an Italian lawyer and UN Special Rapporteur on the occupied Palestinian territories, names 48 corporate actors -- including U.S. tech giants Microsoft, Alphabet Inc, Google's parent company and Amazon -- that are complicit in Israel's genocide.

A database of more than 1,000 corporate entities was also put together as part of the investigation.

"[Israel's] forever-occupation has become the ideal testing ground for arms manufacturers and Big Tech -- providing significant supply and demand, little oversight, and zero accountability -- while investors and private and public institutions profit freely," the report said.

"Companies are no longer merely implicated in occupation -- they may be embedded in an economy of genocide," it said, in a reference to Israel's ongoing assault on the Gaza Strip.

The report stated that its findings illustrate why Israel's "genocide" continues -- "Because it is lucrative for many."
