

Argentinean Airlines with Fully Booked Flights to Cuba

Havana, January 7 (RHC) -- Argentinean Airlines (AA) flies for the second time this year to Cuba with fully occupancy, while its two weekly flights during January have already been fully booked.

The airlines said that all flights to Cuba during February have also been booked at 98 percent.

As part of an expansion of its routes, AA opened flights to Cancun, Mexico and the Dominican Republic, and resumed departures for Quito, Ecuador.

All AA flights to the Caribbean make a stop-over in Caracas, Venezuela, which enhances the South American network and set an occupancy record for the airlines.
