

Ed Snowden Says U.S. Mass Surveillance Becomes Routine

Hanover, March 18 (Xinhua) -- Mass surveillance of U.S. intelligence agencies has become routine, said American whistleblower Edward Snowden Wednesday while addressing the CeBIT.

"Extensive monitoring has become routine," said Snowden while taking a video interview at the annual IT trade fair taking place in Germany. "Thus, the activities of the NSA have become invisible. Even in the White House."

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/49884-ed-snowden-says-usmass-surveillance-becomes-routine>

Radio Habana Cuba