

Former Hewlett-Packard CEO Carly Fiorina Makes U.S. Presidential Bid

Washington, May 4 (RHC)-- Former Hewlett-Packard CEO Carly Fiorina has announced her bid for the Republican presidential nomination. She is the second woman to enter the presidential race, after former secretary of state Hillary Clinton.

Carly Fiorina and her husband have claimed a combined net worth of between $30 and $120 million dollars. Political observers say that Fiorina's wealth guarantees her candidacy, even though hardly anyone in the United States has heard of her before.
