

170 Charged After Biker Gang Shooting in Texas

Dallas, May 19 (RHC)-- Authorities in the U.S. state of Texas have charged 170 members of rival motorcycle gangs with engaging in organized crime following a shootout which left nine people dead.

Waco Police Sergeant W. Patrick Swanton said biker groups made threats against law enforcement "throughout the night" after the shooting. He said that those arrested were charged with engaging in organized crime and capital murder.
