

Cuban Residents in Madrid Form New Cultural Association

Madrid, May 28 (RHC)-- The Association of Cuban residents in Madrid or AsiCuba (by its Spanish acronym) was officially set up Wednesday in Spain, aimed at contributing to strengthened ties between the Spanish and Cuban peoples through culture.

In statements to Prensa Latina news agency, AsiCuba Executive Secretary Elizabeth Noriega highlighted the historical friendship ties between Cuba and Spain and pointed to the strong friendship between former President of Galicia, the late Manuel Fraga and Cuban Revolution leader Fidel Castro.
