

U.S. Journalists Promise Not to Reveal Attendees at Closed-Door Koch Event

San Francisco, August 4 (RHC)-- As corporate campaign spending soars, a number of journalists from prominent media outlets accepted an invitation to a gathering of top Republican donors on the condition they not publicly name any of the attendees without permission.

The Washington Post and Politico were among the news outlets to attend the event sponsored by billionaire brothers Charles and David Koch at a luxury resort in California.

The Koch brothers' operation has vowed to spend $889 million on the 2016 election cycle. Protesters sought to shed light on the secretive event by photographing the donors as they walked in.
